

MOBILIZED FOR THE MISSION

A MESSAGE FROM THE INTERNATIONAL DIRECTOR OF EVANGELISM

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations...” — Matthew 28:19

The mission of the Church has never changed.

Jesus commissioned His followers to go into the world and share the Gospel. Today, that same assignment remains before us. We are called not merely to gather, but to go.

As the International Director of Evangelism, I believe God is calling our fellowship into a renewed season of mobilization. Evangelism is not reserved for a select few—it is the responsibility of every believer. Every member is a witness. Every church is a mission station. Every community is a harvest field.

Across our fellowship, we are witnessing lives transformed through personal evangelism, community outreach, discipleship, and compassionate ministry. Souls are being saved, baptized in Jesus’ Name, and filled with the Holy Ghost. Yet the mission remains unfinished.

The harvest is still plentiful.

The world is still searching.

The Church must still respond.

I challenge every pastor, leader, ministry worker, and member to renew their commitment to soul-winning. Pray for souls. Share your testimony. Invite someone to church. Disciple new believers. Serve your community.

The future of evangelism will be shaped by Spirit-filled believers who are willing to engage the harvest and obey the voice of God.

Together, let us move from spectators to laborers, from attendance to assignment, and from intention to action.

The harvest is waiting.

Let us be mobilized for the mission.
